Forecast for Tuesday 03 May 2022

Weather: A lot of cloud expected for much of the day, this will give some light rain at times in the morning. Drier weather will slowly move eastwards through the afternoon, with low cloud breaking and lifting, although the odd heavy shower possible. Remaining cloudy in the evening with further rain developing from around dusk onwards.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 700m: Little chance until mid-afternoon with extensive cloud down to 400 to 700 metres. This breaking and thinning from the west from mid-afternoon onwards.

Low cloud and visibility: Rather poor in hill fog and rain, but improving conditions developing later in the afternoon as clearer conditions extend east.
